Marriage 1 Lee Lawrence b: 4 Sep 1868
Married: 1886 in Fields Store, Waller County, Texas
Waller County formed in 1873 from Austin and Grimes Counties

John Ogg's Father was Thomas Ogg. They came to Montgomery County, Texas in 1842. John was born in Georgia and his mother was named Eliza Suggs, the daughter of General Suggs of Richmond County Georgia. John's mother died in childbirth and Thomas married a Martha Fulcher in 1835. They had 8 children together in addition to John. Thomas and Martha were buried in the Magnolia, Texas Baptist Church Cemetery where their headstones were carved from cedar slabs by Indians. Thomas died in 1875 and Martha in 1883. This information can be found in a book titled, "The History of Grimes County". (Mike Ogg - December 2001)

John Thomas Ogg was my great, great grandfather. He was born in Georgia and died in Texas. His father was John Ogg. The only thing that I have on John Ogg is that he married Mildred Garrett in Richmond County Georgia in 1793. John Thomas was born in 1804 and died in 1875. He married Elizabeth Suggs in 1831. She died in child birth and he married Martha Fulcher in 1835. They came to Texas in 1840. They settled in Montgomery County. Both are buried in the Magnolia (TX) Baptist Church Cemetery. Since their markers were cedar slabs there is no trace of exactly where they are buried. My great grandfather, James Ogg, 1841-1912, is buried in the Plantersville City Cemetery. He was a Confederate soldier in the 26th Texas Cavalry (DeBray's Brigade). (Ref. Mark Ogg - December 2001)

Moon, James married Ogg, Ann Amelia on 23 Jul 1831 in Richmond County, Georgia
Hall, James M. married Ogg, Amelia on June 24, 1809 in Richmond County, Georgia

I am almost sure that these are the same Ogg's who came to Virginia in the mid 1600's My Great Great Grand Father, John Thomas Ogg, has some records that say he was born in Virginia in 1811, others say in Georgia in 1808. He had 9 children and died in 1875. He and his wife Martha (Fulcher) are buried in the Magnolia Baptist Church Cemetery (Texas) where their markers were carved from cedar slabs by Indians. I am very sure that we are decedents from the Virginia Thomas Ogg. (Ref. James E. Ogg - January 2002)

I am not sure how much you know about Thomas Ogg. From what I have been able to find out he was born in Georgia around 1804. His first marriage was to an Eliza Suggs, the daughter of General Suggs, in 1835. She died in childbirth. In 1837 he married Martha Fulcher and she is the mother of my Great Grandfather, James Ogg who was born in Georgia. In 1842, Thomas came to Montgomery County, Texas and settled near the Yarborough Lake area which is now Grimes County. He later moved to the Fields Store area which is in Waller County. Thomas and his wife are buried in the Magnolia Texas Baptist Church Cemetery where their grave markers were made of cedar slabs carved by Indians. Thomas died in 1875 and Martha in 1883. John Ogg is buried in the Field Store Cemetery at the corner of FM 1488 and FM 362 about 7 miles North of Waller, Texas. He was married to Susan Howell. It says on his marker that he was a Confederate Soldier in Company I, 20th Texas Infantry. My great grandfather, James Ogg, is buried in the Plantersville, Texas city cemetery. He was married to Eliza Perl Heflin. Both John and James died on July 4, 1912. It says on James marker that he was a Confederate Soldier in DeBray's Brigade, 1861-1865. Most of this information can be found in the book, "A History of Grimes County, Texas". I hope this is helpful to you. (Ref. Mike Ogg - January 2001)

Notes for ELIZABETH PERL HEFLIN:

A note on our GGrandmother, Eliza Perl Heflin Ogg. Her parents were Alonzo (Joe) Heflin and Sultania Holt Heflin. They came to Montgomery County in 1840 from Alabama. They died in Montgomery County in 1885. One of their son's, Mac Heflin, was the father of my great uncle, Joe Heflin. He married my grandmother's sister, Mae Ballard Heflin. Joe and Mae owned and operated a hotel in Magnolia with Mac Heflin. It catered to railroad workers. Mae and Joe moved to the Houston Heights in the 30's, after the railroad worked came to an end. They lived on 24th street. I went there many times with my grandmother, Hettie Ballard Ogg (1889-1988) to visit Uncle Joe and Aunt Mae. Aunt Mae made the best meatloaf, still one of my favorites. Transcript of April 1977 tape of Ruth Ogg Hall talking about her father, John M. Ogg. This transcript was in the possession of Mary Alyce Ogg Adams. She gave it to me in the fall of 1999. (Gary Adams)

I am the daughter of John MacDonald Ogg and Penelope Graham Ogg. My father was a motor man once. They had a motor that ran down to the bottoms. That was in Bryan, Texas. The bottoms was where they raised cotton and everything. He hauled people back and forth. It was not a train. It was a gasoline motor; one of the first ones that came out. At first it was the only one they were using like that; later on they used more of them. Oh, I thought it was so much fun to get a ride on it.

How did we get to Houston to visit Grandma Graham? Oh, we came by train, from Bryan, Texas. That was, oh, I am 67 years old and I was six years old then. (1916)

I was born in Rockland Texas. Pappa worked as a night watchman. That is the way that he got started with trains. And he had to fire them up and get them running for the engineers. He was working for the railroad. Later on, he began to take trains out.

And Papa also worked as an oil field worker. He was not a driller, but if he had stayed with it a little longer, they would have made a driller out of him. He was a driller's helper. It was hard work and awful long hours and he had to work at night. I can remember how grouchy he was. Lena was a baby at that time, and she had a real nice little buggy that Mama had managed to get somehow; saved her money. And Papa came home early one morning and stumbled over that buggy! And boy, he just took it and stomped it. He was so angry. He had a terrible temper. I have seen Papa get mad and tell off on things.

One time he got mad at a cow cause she hooked at Lena. But there is a long story about that. We had Aunt Clara staying with us. She had teased the cow, that is why she was angry. And she had her first calf. She was protecting her young, you know. Lena was much smaller and she just went out into the cow lot and she just rolled up under the fence and got out of the way of being hooked just in time. But Papa saw the cow hook at Lena and he grabbed up a piece of stove wood, they called it pine knots in those days, and he just beat that cow's horns and one horn was split after that. And I really kind of felt sorry for the poor old cow. But he really had a terrible temper.

We went to the Baptist Church. This town we lived in at that time was called Wiergate. And it was a sawmill town. The church met in a house built for a family, but they did not have it partitioned so we held church in there. The mill allowed us to do that. Then they planned on building a church. Mama was a charter member and she was the church musician. At first she was the pianist, no, at first she played the organ; and then later insisted that I play it in church. I could not play very well, but the singing and all, kind of drowned it out. So it was not so bad. But she brought us up in the church and we did have good training.

Are any of our relatives buried in Wiergate? Well, George's twin brother is buried there. His name was Edgar Allen and Papa named him after Edgar Allen Poe. He was the largest and prettiest baby. Johnnie Mae was ill at the time of their birth, she had whooping cough. Mama had one baby on one side of her and one baby on the other side and Edgar was the prettiest and Papa wanted to show Johnnie Mae the baby. Of course, we did not know she had the whooping cough then at the time. So Papa brought her in and showed her the baby and held her up close. And it was so tiny. It was only about six weeks old when it died. Of course, it was sick about a week before it died.

Do I remember the doctor who tended the baby? It was Dr. McAlister, from Wiergate. Well, he did not know too much. There was no such thing as a funeral home at that time. We did not even have a church service. They just had a grave side funeral. They had to make his little coffin, but it was real pretty. The man who made it was really a craftsman. He lived in Newton. Papa had him make it and he brought it up on the engine.

During World War I, we moved to Newton and Papa built the railroad. He carried the ties and the rails so far on his train and then they unloaded them and then he backed the train back and they put the rails down. And that is the way he built the railroad all the way to Wiergate.

They were building this big sawmill there at Wiergate. Oh, it was a huge thing. And they had what they called niggers that were iron things. When the big old logs that would come up the ramp with chains you see, these niggers would clamp down on those logs and flip them over, and that is where they got their names; they were workers you know. It was machinery though. It was interesting. A lot of people would come to Wiergate just to look over that mill. They had a big planer too. They also made the lumber. That was during World War I and they shipped a lot of lumber out of there. Papa just worked day and night; made several trips hauling that lumber. They used it to build ships and things like that.

Papa was a great hunter. From the time he was little boy even. They used to go and hunt deer in the days when they had all kinds of wild animals. And Papa was a great story teller. You know today people watch television and listen to radio but then they had to depend on people to tell stories. And he could tell some horrifying stories about narrow escapes, that he had and people that he knew. There was one woman... His uncle and he were out hunting and they heard a woman screaming. So they went to investigate and they saw a panther on top of a little old log cabin roof and this woman was burning up her feather beds and the pillows every time that panther would want to come down that chimney. Of course it was a great chimney where they would cook in big iron pots. So his uncle shot this panther and killed it. But she had just about burned everything and she had a little baby and she had the baby tied up in the cabin loft. That was one of the stories and he could tell it, not like I did, but in degrees. And he would get you so excited to the point where you were just holding your breath. And we lived out on a farm. We had bought a farm. Lena and I had to wash dishes at night. It would be cold weather, and Papa would start telling the kids about different things like that and Lena and I would get scared. We would look out the window and imagine we could see all kind of bears and wildcats out there. We would be creeping in there, and Papa would say, "get back in there and wash those dishes"!

Papa was very romantic and was a very handsome man. Dark brown hair looked almost black, with a wave in the front part and he had big old blue eyes. He had a good personality. When he smiled his eyes would squint up and he just smiled all over. When he was in a good humor he was in a good humor, and everybody liked him. But when he was mad, he was mad.

Mama was dating (I guess that was what they called it in those days) Will Powell. He and a friend were in business. They owned a livery stable. They rented carriages out. Carriages with beautiful horses. This was in Nacogdoches. I do not know how they met, but I think Mama worked in a store. They might have met there, I do not know. But anyway, Will was going with Mama. Oh he would come to see her and he would bring the prettiest horses and the best carriage. Mama said she was so proud. She loved to ride in that carriage and watch those horses prance. They were so pretty.

But there was a dance or ball, I believe they called it in those days. Mama was invited and Will Powell took her. They were engaged. Mama said Will had asked her to marry. She had been going with him for five years. He was taking care of his mother. I think he was waiting to marry on account of taking care of his mother. During this dance, Papa was there too, and he spotted Mama. He happened to know Will Powell. So he went over to Will, and Will had to introduce him to Mama. He asked for a dance. So they began to dance. He made up his mind that very night that he was going to take Mama away from Will Powell. He fell in love with her right off the reel. She liked him too. There was little bit...they all liked Will Powell..her mother always felt like she was safe with Will Powell. She did not know about this John Ogg. He was a fast one.

The one that Mama loved, really loved deeply, died. His name was Lawrence. He was a beautiful man the way Mama talked about him. He was tall, nice, just handsome. Grandma told her never to let a man kiss her or he would not like her anymore. It was a disgrace to do things like that. He wanted to kiss her and she would not let him. He took pneumonia I believe and you know they did not have any cure for pneumonia in this time. If a person got well, it was just their own body resistance that pulled them through. He died and she grieved over that. She liked...she thought she would marry Will Powell. She figured she would not love anybody else. But then she met Papa and he was so persistent. He broke down all her defenses. They did not tarry long. They got married.

They had rough times together. The sickness, and children that they had. They lost their firstborn. He lived to be eleven years old and he died of blood poisoning in Sour Lake. He is buried in Sour Lake.

They were living in Sour Lake. Papa was doing oil field work. What I do remember about Uncle Jim Ogg was that he had a livery stable. He was pretty well off when we lived there. We were poor you know. We lived in a little old shack. Uncle Jim lived in a fine home. Uncle Lon did too. Uncle Lon was with Uncle Jim in the business.

Notes for GARY WADE ADAMS:

I have spent my adult life as educator. The Texas Department of Corrections served as a working scholarship program for me while enrolled at Sam Houston State University. Jack McClain, Counselor at Kirbyville High School introduced me to one of his Sheffield nephews who was employed by TDC and through this introduction I applied for employment. I enlisted with TDC on January 2, 1974 and worked for a year and a half at Wynne State Prison and for two and one-half years at the Goree State Prison for women. I had a very interesting time working for the prison system including a slight involvement in one of the biggest prison breaks and hostage crises in prison history. My time at Goree was a very unusual experience for a young, naive, country boy.

After graduation in May of 1978 I served as a teacher of Vocational Agriculture for six years in the Kirbyville School District. I enrolled in a graduate program with Sam Houston in the area of Vocational Supervision immediately after graduation. Sam ended their program two years later and left me with few options. I enrolled at Lamar University hoping to obtain a Master of Education degree in School Administration. I graduated in 1984 and served two years as an Assistant Principal and four years as Principal of Kirbyville High School. I received my Master's degree, Mid-Management Certificate, and Superintendent's Certificate from Lamar.

I moved to Bay City ISD in 1990 and served four years as High School Principal. I later served 2 and one-half years as Principal of H. J. McAllister School in Bay City. Jill and I bought a house in Bay City in June of 1996 and expected to retire at that location. Her mother was very ill with terminal cancer and she was spending many weekends in Normangee.

The Superintendent of Schools in Normangee resigned unexpectedly in September of 1996 and the Board of Education offered me the position in October. I moved in with Jill's mother during the Christmas Holidays and began working in January 1997. Jill was hired in the College Station ISD in January and we sold our house in March. We have a small ranch in the area and spend all of our free time working with the cows. (Ref. Gary Adams)

Notes for DAN MICHAEL OGG:

I had been a teacher/coach, assistant principal, High School and Junior High principal and superintendent. My wife, Billie, was a long time math teacher, math department chair and curriculum director. We live in Walden on Lake Conroe. Our oldest son, Michael, is 4 generations of my family in school business. He is an ass't principal in Brenham.

I started my career after 3 years in the Army where I had commanded a tank company in the 2nd Armored Division (61-64). My first job was as a teacher/coach at Lake Highlands High in the Richardson ISD. (64-76) I was later an ass't principal at LH. From Lake Highlands, I went to Gladewater as High School principal. I was there 10 years (76-86) and then went to A&M Consolidated High School in College Station as principal and was there from 86-90. I was in the Gilmer ISD from 90-96 as HS principal and later superintendent. In 96 we came to Montgomery ISD where I was the Junior High principal and Billie was the curriculum director.

Montgomery is a fast growing school district. The High School is 4A but will be 5A in 3-4 years. We continue to live in the Montgomery area on Lake Conroe in Walden. I retired from the Texas Army Guard in '93 as a BG and 32 years commissioned service in the Army. I was in the Corps at A&M (57-61) and was commissioned from there into the Army (ref. Mike Ogg)

BISD names new Krause principal - By MILES SMITH/Staff Reporter Tuesday, June 8, 2004 2:32 PM CDT

The Brenham school board decided Monday that Michael Ogg would serve as Krause Elementary School's new principal. The 32-year-old Ogg, who for the past three years has served as Krause's assistant principal, will succeed Bonnie Brinkmeyer. Brinkmeyer was recently hired to head the administration and faculty at Brenham Middle School. The board's decision pleased Ogg, who said he was ready to build on the success Brinkmeyer brought to the school in her four years as principal. "I appreciate the opportunity that the school board and (Superintendent David) Yeager have given me," Ogg said. "Mrs. Brinkmeyer has taught me a lot. She's been a great leader for this campus, and I just want to continue what we have been doing." Ogg said his goals for the campus were mainly to continue instilling the belief in faculty and student alike that aspirations can be achieved with the proper mindset.

"I want to let students know they can achieve anything they work toward," Ogg said. "The teachers have done a great job with (putting a positive effort into the students), and letting the students know that you can be successful if you just put forth the time. "We've got a great group of teachers and staff to work with. I'm grateful Mr. Yeager and the board have given me the opportunity to work for this campus."

Ogg began teaching in 1994, shortly after picking up a bachelor of science in Elementary Education along with a math minor from Stephen F. Austin. But he said the desire to teach had been ingrained in him from his youth, as both of his parents were educators. His father served as a high school principal, superintendent and retired as a junior high school principal, while his mother was a high school math teacher, a junior high math teacher and a curriculum director. "My whole life I've basically been in the education business, you could say," Ogg said. The Krause staff gave Ogg a standing ovation when he was named their leader, according to district spokesman Dirk Goldsmith.

Brinkmeyer said she was confident Ogg would do a good job in succeeding her at the helm of Krause. "Mike Ogg is a dedicated professional," Brinkmeyer said. "He has already demonstrated that he has principal abilities. "He will take this school to the level of academic success we've been having. He's ready."

Ogg's hiring puts an end to the domino effect of Brenham principals vacating their posts to lead at the next level. Brinkmeyer vacated the post in May after being named Brenham Middle School principal to replace John Dalchau, who was named principal of Brenham High School at the beginning of May. Dalchau replaced Jon Forsythe as high school principal after Forsythe moved to the newly-created director of student services position among the central office administrative staff.
